Print Edition

ANIM FW 21/2 READY TO WEAR

Anim expands its relationship with its roots, launching the first ever Ready To Wear Collection for Fall/ Winter 21.

For this exciting journey, Anim has collaborated with Turkish photographer Barbaros Cangürel, marking the first time where the label ventured into ready to wear.

Crafted in soft and cozy textures, Anim's idiosyncratic prints and embroideries came to life within this collection.

The Fall/Winter campaign was inspired by Dutch filmmaker Willem Baptist's documentary project 'Instant Dreams', trying to seize meaning through the combined experience of 'escapism' and feeling 'home' as well as embracing life and its instant moments through time and movement.

The first RTW collection is about cozy textures, prints, stripes, florals and bold embroideries, where brand's 'aniverse'
patterns and colorful stripes are also re imagined within relaxed yet refined everyday clothing.

Loving the story behind the polaroids, the imagery within Baptist's documentary "Instant Dreams" is impressive as the idea of it, outlining polaroids as the artifact of time just like the way we see our journey between home and clothing as the artifact of time.
